THE BUDGET.

Prospects in South Africa.

London, April 14.-Sir Michael Hicks-Beach has suspended the Sinking Fund. Ho raises the income-tax by a penny, and increases the strong duty on cheques and bills to two-pence. Tea, tobacco, and augir are entouched. He imposes threepence per hundred-weight on corn. Later. - Sir Michael Hicks-Beach imposes a duty of fivepence per hundred-weight on flour and meal. The new taxation will produce £5,160,000. He proposes to borrow 32 millions and obtain the remainder by No. 1 WELLINGTON ST. Exchequer drafts,

> The expenditure in 1903 will be £173,609,-000, including the war charges which are £14,780,000 less than in 1902. There is a deficit of 45 millions. He will ask Parliament for a grant-in-sid of the Sugar Colonies pending the abolition of the bounties. 2120 If peace came in a few weeks it must be remembered, he said, that war was costly to terminate as well as to wage. They must provide gratuities and bounties for soldiers, besides the maintenance of a considerable force in South Africa, and for the relief and resettlement of the Transvaal and Orange Colony and the rebuilding and restocking of farms.

Sir William Harcourt vigorously opposed CONSCITATION FREE, the corn tax.

April 15,--The Loan resolution las been 1902 | adopted by 229 against 103.

Sir Michael Hicks-Beach announced that the new loan will be 27 per cent Consols. He mentioned that the sugar grant, which Lately Practising with Dr. I. SASATA was for the West Indian Colonies only, would not exceed quarter of a million. He spoke hopefully of the financial position of the Temsvanl. The revenue for the next financial year is estimated at between four and five millions. For the present year, ending June, it would be £1,200,600. The Transvaal was not only able to bear the cost of the South African Constabulary but to pay the interest on the old Government's debt, the cost of civil administration, and the interest on railway debentures. It had throughout been the intention of Government to charge the new Colonies with a portion of the war espenditure without hinduring their development, and he believed it possible after the war to assign certain sources of revenue for the service of the war loans and in a few years charge them with the interest on war expenditure amounting, in the first instance, to thirty millions.

April 16, - The grain-tax includes rice, lentils, arrowroot and mgo. An amendment of Bir Field in the House of Commons for reducing the duty on ten to four pence was rejected by 228 against 111.

Interest on the loan will be reduced to 21 per cent. next year. The Times states the loan will be issued immediately at 934. The Standard says half is already placed privately, including five millions in New

INDIA, BURNA, SIAM, THE MALAY Although Sir Michael Hicks-Beach did not state the amount, it appears from the vote that half a million will be applied as the grant-in-nid of the sugar-growing

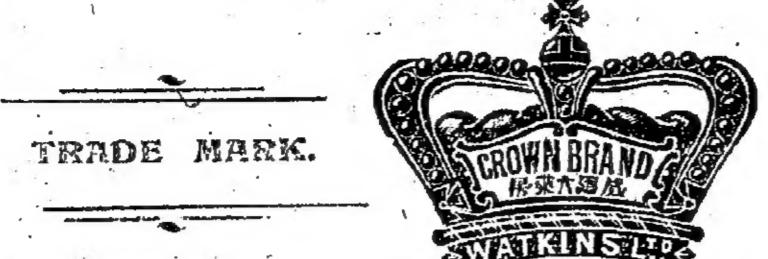

> The papers' reception of the Budget a whole is decidedly favourable. The Dutty News and Chronicle condemy the taxation of cereals as a reversal, of the fundamental principle of British finance. Sir Michael Hicks-Bench's Budget Estimates include forty millions war expenditure, for nine months' maintaining " another sixteen millions are provided in case the war continues through the year. Sir Michael Hicks-Beach said he had hopes of a happy result of the conference, but he cannot allow them to influence him. The Continental papers regard the Bud-

On this point the exclusion bill will be opposed both in the Senate and in the House, if the Senate retains that clouse in any bill it sends to the House. Prohibition will be opposed on constitutional grounds. Senators and Representatives who would not like to appear as advocates of Chinese imaggration will rest their opposition to the measure on the ground that WATSON & CO., as the Philippines have been declared domestic territory, the residents in the islands have a right to migrate to all parts of the United States. It has been stated that Chinese in the islands would not volunvarily come to the United States mainland. Possibly some of them would not. Probably a large proportion of them would. Much would depend upon the industrial conditions of the islanes. A demand for labor at good wages would quite likely keep the bulk of the Chinese now in the islands from coming to the American mainland But there is danger that Chinese from China will drift into the Philippines in Here, then, the Americans will experience a new phase of the Chinese Question, and it is not improbable that the capitalists interested in the mercantile shipping will find it impossible to realise the bright hopes of Mr. Shaw without the aid of the Asiatic. Tibre, which was recently put up for sale at Saigon, was disposed of 1.20 for the sum of £3,009 to Mr Seller, on behalf of the Tanjong Pagar Dock Company, from whom her late owner had chartered her. Although the hull of this vessel iabout 35 years old, yet her engines and fit tings are said to be comparatively new. The bargain is therefore not a bad one. This is the second purchase of ships by the the Dock Company within a period of a few months, the last being the Horsburgh, This steamer, some of our readers will no doubt remember, was called the Tyger vin Cotei and was owned by the Sultan of Cotoi who sent it to Singapore to undergo extensive repairs, apparently so extensive that the vessel passed into the hands of the Duck Co., who sold it to Government for a pretty tidy figure.

The schedule time for this train for the run from Montreal to Vancouver, a distance of 2,306 miles, is 72 hours, or three days. This is one day better than the time made by the present through train during the summer senson. For such a run the average time, including stops, is a fraction over 40 miles per hour. To make this through time, however, a speed of 65 miles an hour will have to be maintained over certain sections of the line. The feasibility of the plan is said to have been proved last summer by trial runs over different portions of the road, covering in all about 60.7 miles of he distance.

Cholera at Canton and Manila

In a letter to the Hongkong Government, dated 26th April, Mr James Scott, H.B.M. Acting Consul-General at Canton, says :- 'Referring to my despatch of the 2nd inst., I regret to have to report the death during the present week from choicra of three foreigners. Mr Middleton of the Green Island Cement Co. at Kowloon developed the disease while on a visit to Fatshan. Medical assistance could not be procured and he succumbed. On the same day, Mr da Cruz, a Portuguese clerk in the employ of the firm of Rowe & Co., also died. He was taken ill the previous morning, but did not call in a doctor until 24 hours later. Everything possible was then done for him, and he was brought safely through the worst stages of the disease, but died afterwards from weakness. There was a further death yesterday. Mr Berg, the freight manager of the German steamer Wag Hong, was taken ill while the ship was on her way to Kongmoon. On reach ing that port, she reported the matter to the Imperial Maritime Costoms, who advised her to return with all speed to Canton-She arrived here after 16 o'clock on Tuesday morning, but the patient succumbed at half-past 10, before medical assistance could be obtained. H.B.M. Acting Consul at Manila, Mr W. H. M. Sinchit, reported that the total number of cases up to 8 a.m. on 22nd April in Manila and Bay was 433, with 336 deaths; and in the provinces 989 cases with 795 deaths.

CHINESE RESIST THE RATCATCHERS.

The return of rats expressed and slaughtered in the Colony last mouth shows a big falling off, down to only 1000 head per week. The Medical Officer of Health states that, since the house-cleaning, the Ohinese are offering every possible resistence to the rateatch is in the performance of their work. It would seem too much money. After paying for their messing and for their bait, they have as much as sixteen dollars over. The subject was under discussion at yesterday's meeting of the Smithry Board. Mr Osborne said . I think, sir, we should not allow this matter to pass without make ing some effort to restore the number of rats caught to what it was before. It would appear that the Chinese have an objection to their premises being disinfected, and pub every obstacle in the way of the intestchars catching the rate. They fear that, if "an infected int is earght, the Sanitary Board will disinfect their premises. I geems to me that we have got to choose between two evils; one is the danger of allowing plague to spread by means of rate and the other is the possible danger of not disinfecting the premises. I think there is a far greater danger in allowing the rate to go about the Colony than it stopping the disinfection. I beg to move that disinfection of Chinese premises where rate infected with plague leave been found be discontinued at present in order that the they were before.

Lieut, Col Hughes - I am dead against that, sir. I consider that, where a plague to be disinfected.

Hon. A. W. Brewin secutated the motion. He said. We must deal with the circumstances as we find them. It will be impossible for as to prevent the Chinese closing the traps as soon as the ratcatchers have gone away or letting the rats out if they are cought. We have to choose, as Mr Osborne says, between two courses, and I think that the one proposed by him will be more beneficial to the community I recommend that this resolution be carried. and that it be notified as widely as possible that in future where infected rats are caught the premises, will not be disinfected and that the Chinese be encouraged to allow the same facilities as they did before,

I do not wish to condome their action, but we have no help for it and must do just what we cur. Dr Clark-I hope sincerely, sir, that the Board will not pass this resolution. It fact, I feel very sorry indeed that I brought this matter before the Board if that is to be the result. There matter of 9,000 or 10,000 rats being caught in Kowloon every week, and almost 2,000 in the City of Victoria. A very large number of theee rate are examined bacteriologically and as a result of that, houses are disinfected and cleansed Perhaps I should not use the world 'disinfected but 'chansel.' We do not fumigate the house in which an infected rat is found. . What we do is to put carbolic acid in the ratholes, fill up the rat-runs and generally clean out the premises if they are in a dirty condition; but because there are some half-dozen householders in the Colony and particularly in the City who daily spring off the traps after having been put in and baited-if because of that the Board are willing to climb down and give up the work we are carrying on on the advice of a distinguished plague expert, then I think we should be doing an extremely foolish thing. The percentage of rat traps which are sprung off is comparatively only small. I brought the matter forward because thought some member of the Board might be able to suggest some way of stopping it; stop it to do away altogether with present in full swing, and which think everyone must admit are having some effect upon the prevalence of bubonic plague. At this time last year there were 60 or 80 cases a week of plague. I do not wish to beast, and I have no doubt there are many circumstanes at work which are keeping the disease in cheek this year, but I certainly believe-I grant you that I have come round to the ounion-that the rat has much more to do with it than I used to think. have come round to the opinion that if we examine the rars which are found in the City and if we deal with those houses and those districts in which plague-infected rats are found, we are doing a good nork in the direction of the prevention of human plague. If we had to do away with that, we may just as well give up santary work altogether and let the epidemic have full swing. It is Professor Simpson's opinion -and, as I say, I quite ceneur with himthat rat plague precedes human plague, and that has been horne out very clearly this year. If any of you care to see the map which shows the localities in which plagueinfected rats have been found and at the same time another colour showing the localities in which plague cases have been found, you will see that they tend to group themselves together and that the cases of infected rats are found some weeks generally-certainly some days- before the eases occur. Under these circumstances. I think it would be far better to bear the ills we have in the way of the Chinese working against us. They have worked against as more or less ever sinco we have undertaken to deal with plague at all. There are a certain distinguished few of thom who help us, but I am speaking now of the bulk of the population. They work against us because they have to put up with a certain amount of discomfort, and for us, because of that, to climb down and do nothing, would be extremely foolish. The mere catching of rats may help certainly, but it is not the only thing. One of the principal objects of catching rats, especially in a place where plague is endenic is to ascertain the localities which become infected and then deal with these localities and say, will studied our work during the past three months. Mr Osborne - After the Medical Officer of Health's explanation, I cannot do mor than withdraw my motion for the moment and perhaps refer to it later on. The turns, however, show the startling fact that the number of rats caught has gone down from 3,636 per week to 1,645 per week. The obvious deduction from that is that, there is any use in catching rate at all, we had better do all we can to each them. by our measures we are preventing the catching of the rats, it seems to me only reasonable that we should stop those measures that prevent the catching of the rats. Powever, I think we quite agree with the Madical Officer of Health that we should do na our expert adviser says, and I am willing to withdraw my motion at present. Hon. A. W. After dinner, Dr Clark briefly introduced Sir Francis Lovell, who said -- Dr Clark and gentlemen, I wish in the first place to express to Dr Clark my hearty thanks for javiling me here this evening to much so many of my colleagues in the medical profession, and thus giving me this opportunit and pleasure not only of making the connentance of many whom I have not prerate may be caught in the same numbers as | viously met, but of discussing with my colleagues in Hongkong the best means of insuring the success of my mission in connection with the London School of Tropical infected rat is caught the premises ought Medicine in this Colony. After referring to the assistance given to him by the Press, Sir Francis Lovel continued: It is not my intention to we cry you with a lengthy account of the origin of the School, its aims, objects, and the work that has been done by it-these are all familiar to you and there are amongst us this evening some gentlemen who have availed themselves of the course study the School offers and who are therefore intimately acquainted with it. I will brichly refer to its origin and relate to you the details of my mission on its behalf, The School owes its origin to the Rr. Hon. Joseph Chamberlain, who, with the object of affording instruction in tropical medicity to Medical Officers in the Colonial service, invited the Committee of Management of the Seamen's Hospital Society to establish the School in connection with their hospitals. In accepting Mr Chamberain's invitation and with a view of still furthey increasing the usefulness of the School, the Committee resolved to throw it open to all medical graduates who might wis to avail themselves of the exceptional facilities which it, together with their hospitals, affords for the study of this particular branch of medicine. The reasons for and the advantage of enlarging the scope of the School are obvious. Previous to its inception there were no adequate preans whereby private practitioners or medical missionaries about to proceed to the tropies could acquire special information concerning, or obtain practical in struction in, an important section of the diseases they would be called upon to treat. Without his initiative and without his sympathy and active support the hones of many of us could not have been so speedily effectively realised. Apart from philanthropic and scientific considerations, as a piece of practical statesmanship, may confidently be predicted that the future will prove that, of the many public measures Mr Chamberlain less instituted and advocated, the London School of Tropical Medicine is by no means the least promising or the least important. The action thus taken in establishing the School but it is not in my opinion the way to by Mr Chamberlain was instiguted by the medical advisor to the Colonial Office, Dr the preventive measures which are at Patrick Manson, C.M.G., a name well known in this part of the world, and you will, Laknow, gentlemen, all cuncur with me in expressing our sincere sympathy with
